

To the FCC:

I am very concerned about the consolidation of media ownership in this country. The public airwaves serve the vital purpose of presenting a wide range of ideas and viewpoints so our citizens can be well-informed. The more consolidated the media becomes, the more limited the opinions expressed.

I urge you to work towards the decentralization of media control, so more and different voices have access to the public airwaves.

I also urge you to regulate and fine companies such as Sinclair Broadcast Group who use the public airwaves to promote a specific political agenda. Such partisan maneuvering goes against the public interest. The FCC should protect all forms of media from such abuses.
